NAAC 'A' Accredited, UGC Recognized Under 2(f) & 12(B) Status

Affiliated to Periyar University, Salem, Tamil Nadu.

Academic and Administrative Audit Report (2023-24)

Observation -Criteria 1

All departments have revamped the curriculum for all UG and PG programs.

All departments, except BBA, conducted Curriculum-Based Value Added Courses for final year UG students to earn extra two credits.

Student enrollment in value-added and skill development courses needs to be increased by providing orientation to all students.

MOOC/Swayam course registrations should also be increased, and class mentors need to guide students to take the examinations and obtain certificates to earn two credits.

As part of the curriculum, final-year UG and PG students completed their internships and projects.

Feedback from stakeholders has been received and incorporated into the curriculum.

Observation -Criteria 2

Organized special programme for slow learners:

- Slow learner remedial classes
- Intensive training.
- Activities details
- Initiatives for improvement

Organized special programme for fast learners (students participants external seminar/conference/research/placement)

- Student centered learning strategies
- Self-learning- Online courses and certification
- Support for paper publication and presentation conference/seminar
- Skill training through placement cell
- Guidance & Support for professional exams provided.

Teachers use ICT enabled tools including online resources for effective teaching and learning process:

- Student centered learning strategies
- E-Notes in ERP
- Usage of AV hall
- Online courses and certification
- Continuous update in the manuals and e-notes
- Interactive lecture through Google classrooms
- Conduct training need analysis
- Depute faculty for competence development Provide opportunity for networking
- Training all faculty for use of ERP/LMS
- Scope for e-content development /web presence of teacher
- Few youtube channel

- Departments have to concentrate to increase the student admissions the for the next academic year.
- Reserved categories admission percentage has to be increased as per the government norms.
- Student – Teacher ratio is good in all the departments
- Teaching plan completed by most of the departments
- Teacher qualification has to be improved with Ph.D /SET/NET
- Teacher with both Ph.D and SET/NET is very minimal

Academic and Administrative Audit (2023-24)

Observation – Criteria 3

Biotechnology and Microbiology leading with 29 and 28 marks respectively.

Commerce follows closely with 23 marks, indicating a strong performance across these departments.

Physics and Chemistry also show notable performance with 19 and 16 marks respectively.

BioChemistry and Statistics maintain a competitive edge with 15 marks respectively.

However, departments such as English and Tamil show lower scores with 6 marks each, reflecting areas that may benefit from improvement.

Detailed Explanation

Based on the provided data, here's a brief report interpreting the information:

1. Research and Funding:

- Most departments report little to no seed money for research, with only Chemistry and English reporting any funding.
- There's minimal national/international fellowship support for advanced studies or research.
- Few departments have ongoing research projects, with Microbiology being the most active (2 projects).
- The Microbiology department received the highest grant (Rs. 454,260) for research projects.

2. Research Guidance:

- Several departments have faculty recognized as research guides, with Microbiology leading (5 guides).
- The Bio-Technology department has the highest number of Ph.D. students registered per teacher (6).

3. Publications and Intellectual Output:

- Publication rates in UGC care list journals vary widely between departments, with Bio-Technology reporting 100% and most others reporting low percentages.
- Book/book chapter publications are limited, with Bio-Technology and Microbiology showing the highest rates.

4. Extension and Outreach:

- Most departments conduct some extension and outreach programs, with Physics leading (5 programs).
- There's limited recognition for extension activities across departments.

5. Collaborations and MOUs:

- Several departments report collaborative activities for internships, projects, or exchanges.
- The number of functional MOUs varies, with HMCS, Physics, and Commerce having the most (3 each).

6. Revenue Generation:

- Some departments generate revenue through consultancy and corporate training, with Bio-Technology leading (Rs. 3,44,950).

7. Workshops and Seminars:

- Many departments organize workshops or seminars on IPR, research, entrepreneurship, or technical skills, with Physics conducting the most (11 programs).

Conclusion:

The ranking highlights strengths in science and commerce-related disciplines while suggesting potential areas for enhancement in language and business-related fields. Overall, there's significant variation in research activity, collaborations, and output across departments. Some departments, particularly Bio-Technology, Microbiology, and Physics, show higher levels of activity in research, publications, and outreach. However, there's room for improvement in areas such as securing research funding, increasing publications, and establishing more industry collaborations across most departments.

Academic and Administrative Audit Report (2023-24)

Observation – Criteria 4

- Only few departments ordered books at minimum amount
- All the departments uploaded 100% E-contents except three departments
- Only three departments completed lecture videos (100%)
- Rest of the departments partly completed the recording of videos

Suggestions

- Departments may order recent edition books for minimum amount, if required
- E-contents to be uploaded as soon as possible
- Every faculty members may asked to record one video lecture

- No.of students admitted under the SC/ST category need to be focused.
- Alumni Contribution can be strengthened (between50,000to1Lakh) or Donations Such as Lab equipment/printers/smart board can be entertained.
- Scholarship given by the Govt. for our students seems to be very low. If it is not possible for Arts & Science stream, slight increase in Management scholarships need to be focused.
- Student council through virtual voting mechanism/some other mechanism can be promoted in all the departments.
- More number of student activity clubs need to be constituted in order to ensure academic quality.

Academic and Administrative Audit Report (2023-24)

Observation – Criteria 6

- Most staff members need to complete at least one SWAYAM course.
- Most departments have not organized professional development or administrative training programs. Departments have to concentrate on organizing the training program.
- The percentage of teachers attending professional development programs is very low in some departments. So, Encourage the faculty members to take participation in the professional development program
- Funds and grants from government bodies, non-government bodies, individuals, and philanthropists are very low, except in one or two departments. So, departments have to find the right NGO to full fill this metrics level.
- Faculty members should take advantage of management funds for attending FDPs, workshops, and conferences.
- Increase the faculty members participation in the management sponsorship program such as seminar, workshop, conference and faculties are asked to submit the related documents properly.

Conclusion:

The college had arranged gender audit based on overall student strength, department wise, teaching, non teaching faculties and few important cells. After examine all mentioned areas, we found that in a few areas, the female ratio is high, and in a few areas, the male ratio is high. Gender audit shows the girl students interest and awareness of joining the post graduate. Besides, it shows that the female students got much awareness about the placement opportunities and it helps to improve the girls students placement as well as joining ratio.

The college has women's forum cell separately for organizing awareness program, skill program and expert interaction program to motivate the girls students. The college has promoting gender equity in appointing the class representatives. All the department have been appointing the both boys and girls as representative in each class. Besides, The college is promoting female faculties to become a process owner of the department and various cells according to their skills and promoting the participative management. The college has been encouraging both male and female students to take part in all aspect of the college system. The college will take many other initiatives to strengthen the female ratio in future such as making policies, promote awareness program and employment opportunity.
